

Brian D. Lytle

Brian D. Lytle, founder of Lytle Law, a multi-attorney, multi-office firm located on the Virginia Peninsula, has been practicing law for nearly twenty years. Brian has volunteered his time to handle legal and organizational matters for Bridges to Prosperity. He is an active board member, and regularly provides input on activities and projects.

Brian was born in North Carolina, moved to Virginia with his family at an early age, and grew up in Hampton, Virginia. He attended Hampton High School and then enlisted in the United States Marine Corps.

During his four year enlistment, Brian served with distinction as an air traffic controller, obtained his private pilot's license, and returned to school to finish his education, achieving both an associate's degree and a bachelor's degree before the end of his enlistment.

Brian was graduated with honors from Azusa Pacific College in 1979 with an Associates Degree. He was graduated with University High Honors from Southern Illinois University in 1981 with a Bachelor of Science, and from the T.C. Williams School of Law, University of Richmond, Virginia, with a Juris Doctor degree, in 1984.

He is admitted to practice before all Virginia state courts, including the Virginia Supreme Court, before the United States District Court, the U.S. Bankruptcy Court, and the United States Court of Appeals for the 4th Circuit. He is a member of the Virginia State Bar and an affiliate member of the Virginia Peninsula Association of Realtors, where he was the 2002 Affiliate of the Year

Brian is married to the former Brenda Jean Nice. They have four children and reside in York County, Virginia.

www.lytlelaw.com bdlytle@lytlelaw.com